Release No. 20121210
13 December 2012

Fort Wayne IAP, IN - The 122nd Fighter Wing's Commander, Col. David Augustine is hosting an AFSSO 21 event in Fort Wayne to stream-line the ancillary training process in the Air National Guard. LtGen Harry M. Wyatt, III, the Director of the Air National Guard commissioned the event recently when addressing a group of senior Air National Guard leaders in Washington D.C.

ANG members from throughout the United States are taking part in the week long endeavor. A goal of this AFSSO 21 processes is to reduce the Ancillary Training in the ANG by over 90% from what it currently is now. The group will focus on three major categories of training this week that will impact the 106,700 airmen in their training environment.

The 122nd Fighter Wing, Indiana Air National Guard Base operates the A-10 Thunderbolt II aircraft. The 122nd Fighter Wing Airmen are routinely deployed around the world in support of the Air Force federal mission while also supporting District 3 and the State of Indiana with homeland support responsibilities.
